

PTA PARENT AND TEACHER ASSOCIATION

WHAT IS A PTA?

Most schools will have a PTA that supports the school. Our PTA covers both Tottenhamhall and St. Michael at Bowes.

A PTA may include school staff but is organised and run by parents or other members of the community.

PTA activity will vary from school to school. Almost all PTAs are involved in fundraising and most will organise social events for parents and children. Many also organise helpers for special events.

Our PTA is FOTSA (Friends of Tottenhamhall and St. Michael at Bowes Association). A PTA may or may not be a registered charity. FOTSA is a Registered Charity (No. 1176088)

Our previous committee members have now left as their children moved onto secondary school, so we are looking for a new committee to continue essential fundraising and community activities.

6 reasons why your PTA really matters

"I love to see my mum in school helping at the fun events the PTA run for us."

1. For the kids

Being active in the PTA not only improves your child's school but makes you an excellent role model. Research confirms what we've always known: when children see us involved in their school and learning, it encourages them to do their best.

"Through being a part of the PTA I've really got to know the school and have confidence in how to fit in."

2. It builds trust

Becoming part of the PTA is a great way to get to know other parents and teachers while gaining an insight into the workings of the school. With parents and teachers striving towards the same goals, the parent group is instrumental in making a real difference in the school life of all children.

"It's great that we finally have some decent kit at school for a change."

3. It raises welcome funds

Whether it's creating an outdoor classroom, stocking the science lab with new Bunsen burners or arranging a visit from a top author, the funds raised from your activities impact massively on the opportunities and experiences of all the children at school.

"It felt great when the head teacher asked the PTA for our views on the new school uniform policy. It made me feel listened to."

4. It gives you a voice

Many PTAs already act as a consultative group for the school leaders and governors. So whether it's deciding on where PTA funds are spent or getting parent views on wraparound care, you can make sure parents have a voice in how your school operates.

"We've been able to really grow the scale of the PTA with some great local contacts."

5. It forges connections beyond the school gates

PTAs are brilliant for building relationships with the local community, from events, sponsorships from local businesses, and mentions in local press. Some Parentkind members have worked with local employees to run career fairs.

"I've been able to use my design skills to help the school, it feels great to be able to make a difference."

6. It's good for you!

Every parent has plenty to offer a PTA, and whether it's being on the committee, helping out at events or organising meetings, your talents will be put to good use. As well as being enjoyable and satisfying, you can build your confidence and learn new skills too.
