Hello from Sian

Welcome back to the Spring Term. Thank you to the parents who attended the Curriculum Meetings and Year 1 Phonic meetings. If you were not able to attend the information is available on our website.

As you will have heard in the news the NEU Teaching Union is planning teacher strikes in the coming months. The first of these will be on Wednesday 1st February. I will be able to give you more information over the next few days on the impact of this for Tottenham.

I attended Pupil Progress meetings last week with Senior Leaders and class teachers and was pleased to see the progress your children are making. We appreciate your support with reading the Big Cat reading books and completing Mathematics, it really does make a difference! Thank you.

Reception Phonics Meeting
Wednesday 25th January
at 9am

Please wait in the outdoor classroom and a member of the team will greet you.

We have a vacancy for a parent governor. If you are interested or would like more information, please contact Sian via the main office.

If you are interested in becoming a volunteer where you will hear children read, please contact Zaheen via the main office.

This half term we are working on being persistent with the help of Pete Persistence! Children who are persistent keep on trying when things seem hard or are not fun to do.

Examples of Persistent Behaviour:

1. Not being distracted
2. Continues to try hard even when a task is difficult
3. Checks completed work
4. Finishes school work / chores before playing.

What will you persist at this week?

Handwriting Competition

There will be a handwriting competition this week in school where the children will showcase their very best handwriting. Winners and runners up will be announced in assembly and announced in our next newsletter.

Number Day 2023

Friday 3 February 2023 is Number Day. We will send out more information soon!

Please remember to check your emails regularly for communications. If you need letters or information translated, please contact the school office.
